POULTRY FREE FROM VERMIN

Most Difficult and Trying Problem Is to Keep Plant Free From Lice-Proper Procedure.

One of the most difficult and trying problems which the poultry keeper has to meet is that of keeping his poultry houses and stock reasonably free from lice, mites and other exter nal parasites. There are many proprietary preparations on the market designed to accomplish this end in one way or another. Most of these preparations are, in proportion to their efficiency, very expensive.

In keeping a poultry plant free from lice there are two points of at invitation of N. A. Dispatches telling of crevices of the woodwork of houses increased operations in New England and nests of lice and vermin, a liquid spray or paint is probably the most desirable form of application. When the pullets are ready to go into the laying houses they should be free from lice. The laying houses should be given a thorough cleaning. They should be first scraped, scoured and washed out with water thrown on the walls and floor with as much pressure as possible from a hose. They are then given two thorough sprayings, with an interval of several days intervening, with a solution of cresol. LESSON FOR APRIL 11

on the heart.-I Samuel 15:7 R. V. After the events recorded in last Sunday's lea on Samuel retired to Samuel "mourned" (15:35) i. e., bewailed and lamented the deposed king.

Ramah never again to see Saul's face. It was noble for Samuel thus to be grieved over Saul's sin; still, God had work for him to do. There is a sorrow that "worketh repentance" which is pleasing in the sight of God, but that idle sorrow which spends itself in unprofitable mourning is detrimental to man and a hindrance to the kingdom of God (ch. 8:7: 15:1) Men may fall but the kingdom goes forward. We do not interpret verse 2 as suggesting any subterfuge on God's part but rather that God refused to pay any attention to Samuel's fear God answers fear by giving us duties to perform and in their performance we are delivered from our fears.

1. David Chosen to Be King, vv. 4-10. | you are studying. Saul, the clamorous choice of the peode, was not succeeded by David-"the man after God's own heart"-for several years after this lesson. God's will in this matter was shown to Samuel progressively: (a) in chapter 13:14 Samuel is informed that God hath sought "a man after his own heart;" (b) in 16:1 he is told to go and find the king whom God had provided; (c) in verse 12 Samuel is at last definitely told whom God has selected. This selection is in accordance with the prophecy made cen turies before regarding the kingly cepter (Gen. 49:10). Of course it was high treason, this ade Samuel was about to perform, and Saul yet had many friends and supporters (v. 2). God seems to have permitted Samuel to use one avowed purpose to con- ate the difficulty of which we are ceal the real one, but "such a course is one to use but sparingly" (Maclarer) God can and does protect those whom he sends (Ps 34:7) and "man is immortal till his work is done." Just what or how did not concern Samuel for he had God's promise (v 3) A step at a time was sufficient and in and misty will, in the third or fourth taking each step Samuel was to tell

David is anointed, set apart, for the kingship, but is not equipped nor does he enter upon his offices till later. In this he is a type of Jesus who shall yet reign on David's throne. Verses 13 and 14 tell of the developing contrast in the lives of Saul and David. David the young king, potential only at this time, is a great inspiration to the young of all ages in that, (1) He did his lowly work thoroughly; (2) While doing it he sought to cultivate and improve himself (v.18); and (3) He gave himself wholly to God: hence the record "and the Lord is with him" (v. 18).

TEXT-John 5:29.

I. Read through at one sitting the entire book you are studying.

books as follows: Matthew, two hours; Mark, one hour and a quarter; Luke, two hours and a quarter; John, one hour and three-quarters; Acts, two hours and a quarter. Without this continual reading it is impossible to get the general thought of the book

In this general reading through of the book your purpose is not to analyze, nor is it even to get an outline but to get an impression; therefore, pay no attention to chapter marks One is sometimes hindered in Bible study by stopping at the end of a chapter. For instance, John 7 ends with the words: "And every man unto his own house;" chapter 8:1 reads: "Jesus went unto the mount of Olives." Now, suppose we end with the first clause, have we not stopped in the midst of a beautiful thought? The thought is this: That while every man had his own home to which to go, that while the foxes had holes and the birds of the air had nests, yet Jesus had no place to call his own, so he went to the mount of Olives. To obvispeaking it is well to read the Revised Version.

II. Read the book over and over again. In the second reading of the book you will see things that you did not see clearly, if at all, in the first reading. What at first sight was dim reading, begin to assume clear and definite outline. A careful and repeated reading of gested reveals the fact that it has a sion from the second: "From that scendant of Rahab the harlot. On time forth began Jesus to show unto suffer." This brief outline is sufficient to illustrate the great advantage of the continuous reading of the book un-

III. Read the book prayerfully. Remember that the Bible is in a very real sense no ordinary book. It is an extraordinary production; it is a supernatural work. The Spirit of God inspired its writers. The same power must illumine its readers if they are Samuel did not hear the voice of to understand its meaning. We ought never to attempt the reading of God's Word without the prayer of David in our hearts: "Open thou mine eyes, and reluctant reply that the youngest | that I may behold wondrous things out of thy law."
